MEETING SAT. ON THIEVERY

FARMERS PLAN ORGANIZATION AGAINST PILLAGE.

HELD AT COURTHOUSE

Hope to Unite Nodaway, Atchison, Fremont And Page Counties In Drive.

An open meeting of farmers of Nodaway county has been called for 10 o'clock Saturday morning in the courthouse for the purpose of organizing this county against thievery. It is planned to form an association of farmers of Nodaway and Atchison counties and Fremont and Page counties in Iowa for this purpose.

L. L. Smith of Northboro, Ia., will speak at the meeting. Mr. Smith has been closely connected with this sort of organization work for some time. He will explain methods which are being used in different counties in Iowa at the present time.

At the recent annual meeting of the Nodaway County Farm Bureau, it was decided that some form of protection should be taken against thievery on farms in this county. A committee met Tuesday afternoon and determined to hold the meeting Saturday.

Similar organizations, which are akin to the old anti-horse-thief groups have been formed in many counties in this and neighboring states in the last few years. This summer there was quite a range of thievery in Northwest Missouri and several counties perfected organizations to curb it.

In several cases a record system has been approved, where each member of the organization pays a certain sum into a treasury, and the total amount goes to pay rewards for arrest and conviction of thieves.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The shipping board was accused today before the Senate commerce committee of accepting illegally the $1,703,000 bid of Henry Ford for two hundred steel freighters. Appearing as a witness in the hearing on the Bruce resolution, proposing an investigation into the transaction, L. B. Miller, counsel for the Union Ship Building Co. of Baltimore, declared the board entered a previous agreement to accept Ford's offer and reject all other bids.

CONTINUES AID FOR HOME EC.

HIGH SCHOOL DEPARTMENT OFFICIALLY APPROVED.

LEE COMMENDS H. S.

State Superintendent Suggests Equipment Needed For Teaching Students Practical Laundering.

The home economics department of the Maryville High School has again been officially approved by the State department of education as entitled to state and federal aid, according to a letter received from Charles A. Lee, state superintendent of schools. The state supervisor of home economics recently visited the local high school, and filed a favorable report with Superintendent Lee.

The letter follows:

February 9, 1926.

"Board of Education,
"Maryville, Missouri.
"Gentlemen:

"I have before me a report of our supervisor of vocational home economics who inspected this department of your school recently, and we are continuing this department on the approved list for state and federal aid, provided, of course, that all reports are duly filed in this office by the teachers as required by the state and federal plans.

"It is encouraging to note the general improvements of this work throughout the state during the past year, and it is our opinion that this phase of educational work is on a better basis than ever before.

"I wish to especially commend the teachers and superintendent for the increased enrollment and for the interest that is shown in this work. You have a splendid equipment, and the additional equipment desired would be that for teaching practical laundering.

"When this office can be of any service to you in any manner to the end that your work may be more efficient, kindly let me hear from you.

"Very truly yours,
"Charles A. Lee.
"State Superintendent of Schools."

Harmony Loses at St. Joseph, 2 to 1

Nodaway Countians Are Eliminated From State Debating League Only After Spirited Contest.

Harmony High School's debate team has been eliminated from further participation in the state debating league race by a defeat Monday at the hands of St. Joseph Central. The debate was spirited an dthe Harmony boys were at their best, losing by a two-to-one vote.

The judges were Harry Kissinger, superintendent of schools at Guilford, Superintendent Portwood of Atchison, Kan., and H. P. Swinehart, formerly of the faculty of the Maryville State Teachers College, now an instructor in the Manual Training High School at Kansas City.

The Harmony team was accompanied by Mrs. Halley Ford, Miss Neva King and Mrs. H. G. Null. Mrs. Ford and Miss King having gone down the Saturday before.

Harmony has taken part in four debates, winning two and losing two. In the matter of votes, however, the team has received eight in its favor to four against.

The St. Joseph contest closes the high school debating of Fay Woodson Null, who has taken part in every debate in which his school has been paired in the last four years. He has been an important factor in the success which the Harmony school has had in the debating field.

TAG DAY HERE ON SATURDAY

TO SECURE FUNDS FOR VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA.

COMMITTEE IS NAMED

Money Will Be Used For Relief Work In Missouri.—Organization Founded By Booths In 1896.

The Volunteers of America, founded by General and Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth in 1896, a national institution having one or more headquarters in every state, has been granted permission by the Chamber of Commerce to conduct a children's "Heart Tag Day" in Maryville Saturday.

The affair is sponsored by Dr. C. C. James, Dean G. H. Colbert, Mrs. W. W. Stanfield and Mrs. R. C. Person, with Miss Grace Wilson in charge of headquarters which will be at the Ladies Rest Room, Court House, from 9 to 5 o'clock.

Aside from the organization's many activities, such as seventy children's homes, emergency homes for women and children, its Holiday Cheer, Mrs. Booth's many years of service in the prisons of the United States, as well as her war work in Europe are too well known to need comment. Her efforts were among the first ever made to systematically help, spiritually, the man behind prison walls or to look after his family often left destitute while he served his sentence.

Invitations to help tag have been mailed to a number of girls and boys and as contest "incentives" as well as rewards for their efforts four pretty and useful prizes will be given to those doing the best. The first prize will be a No. 2 Brownie Camera, second prize, a vanity case, third, a box of chocolates and fourth, a silver eversharp pencil. Those who do not win a prize but who collect at least $3 will receive a pass to the Electric Theatre.

The money collected will be used in this state for destitute mothers and children, and few indeed, it is believed, will fail to respond to the calls of the children on their errands of mercy.

Four Suits Filed for April Term of Court

Mrs. Mazie McDonald Asks Divorce—Trust Company Sues on Note—Everharts Ask Corn

Four suits were filed in Circuit Court today for trial at the April term.

Mrs. Mazie McDonald asks a divorce from William W. McDonald, to whom she was married on November 27, 1894. She alleges that she was deserted on June 12, 1922.

The Mercer County Trust Co., through a Princeton attorney, is suing L. H. and W. L. Bussell of Graham on a note for $1,600, made November 22, 1924, payable in six months and bearing 8 per cent interest. The petition states that a payment of $1,183.92 principal and interest was paid on July 18, 1925, leaving a balance due of $500, for which judgment is asked, together with interest and a $50 attorney fee.

William and Anna L. Everhart have filed a replevin suit against Harvey Dale Latta, seeking to gain possession of 800 bushels of field corn stored in a large crib on a farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. Everhart, about nine miles southwest of Maryville. The petition states that a chattel mortgage was given by Latta on February 26, 1925, as security on a note of the same date for $1,000, due in sixty days and bearing 8 per cent interest. It declares that no payment has been made except $35 on October 19, 1925, and $77.10 on October 23, 1925. The plaintiffs ask for the corn or its money value of $300, together with damages of $25.

A suit to quiet title has been filed by Charles N. Leeper, Ollie B. Leeper and Helen C. Wolf against William A. Macoy, Thomas L. Macoy, Mildred P. Swain, George H. Swain, Adraina Swain, Cornelia Swain and James H. Swain. The suit concerns the west half of the northwest quarter of section 25 and the east half of the northeast quarter of section 26, in township 62, range 37, the whole being about three miles southeast of Graham.

Requests Inquiry in Mellon-Owned Co.

Senate Judiciary Committee to Recommend Investigation Into Neglect Of Department of Justice.

Washington, Feb. 11.—A Senatorial investigation of the Mellon-owned Aluminum Company of America was requested today by the Senate judiciary committee.

By a vote of nine to seven, the committee supported the report of Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat of Montana, proposing an inquiry into the aluminum company's alleged violation of anti-trust laws and sharply criticizing the department of justice for failing to prosecute. The Democratic-progressive coalition is believed to command sufficient strength to order the investigation.

Clear Cold Weather Settles Over East

New York, Feb. 11.—Clear cold weather settled down over the East today following the second severe blizzard of the winter. The blizzard let down twelve inches of snow on that remaining from last week's storm. The combined effect of the two storms was almost as severe as that of the historic blizzard of 1888.

CAN HURRY UP ROAD PROGRAM

HUGH STEPHENS OUTLINES THREE METHODS.

IT IS NO SUGGESTION

That Not Within Highway Commission's Jurisdiction, He Tells Road Engineers Association.

Kansas City, Feb. 11.—Three methods of speeding up the state highway program were outlined today to the members of the highway engineers association meeting here by Hugh Stephens of Jefferson City, member of the highway commission.

If no more mileage is added to the 7,640-mile program and if the present revenue is maintained, Dr. Stephens said the program will be completed by 1934. If the citizens of the state desire to complete the system before then, he suggested three methods as follows:

First, county bond issues, under the centennial road law, the counties later to be reimbursed by the state.

Second, increasing the registration fees and gasoline tax, or

Third, another state-wide bond issue.

Mr. Stephens said it is not within the jurisdiction of the highway commission to suggest future policies in road construction but there is a demand by the public for the road system to be completed as speedily as possible.

The convention which opened here yesterday will close tomorrow with the election of officers.

Two Automobiles Stolen Last Night

Star Coach Is Taken From Burlington Junction and A Ford Truck From Street Here.

Two automobiles owned by Nodaway Countians were stolen last night, according to reports to Sheriff Lowell B. Campbell.

One of the missing cars is a Ford truck owned by Virgil McClurg of Maryville. It was taken from Market street, just west of the Real Estate Bank between 12:30 and 1:30 o'clock this morning. The truck bore a 1925 license number, 49,849.

The other car is a Star coach with light blue body, stolen from Burlington Junction about 11:30 o'clock last night. his car also had a 1925 license, Number 355,184. Its motor number is 361,277 and its factory number 273,904.

Ford Cuts Prices on Closed Models

Fordor Sedan Is Reduced From $660 to $565—Open Models Go Up Slightly.

A new price list for Ford passenger cars was received today by the Barmann Auto Co., Maryville distributors. The new prices are effective today.

The biggest reduction is in the Fordor sedan, which is dropped from $660 to $565, a reduction of $95.

Other changes:

Tudor sedan, from $580 to $520.
Coupe, from $520 to $500.
Touring car, from $290 to $310.
Runabout, from $260 to $290.
All prices are f. o. b. Detroit.

"Demand for closed cars since the improved type in colors was introduced has been constantly increasing," said a statement issued by Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Co. "With greater output of this type costs have lessened and it is the policy of the company to give its customers the benefit of all reductions in production costs. A slight increase is made in the price of the open cars.

"There will be no change in the price of the model T chassis, the Ford truck chassis or the Fordson tractor."

Refuses to Comment on Villa Head Probe

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Dr. James Whitney Hall, noted alienist, today displayed great agitation when informed of a report that he and associates were shortly to receive for study the head of Francisco Pandro Villa, Mexican superbandit and revolutionary leader, whose grave at Parall, Mexico, was reported to have been opened on February 5 and the head removed. Dr. Hall refused to confirm or deny the report.

"I am placed in an embarrassing position and I have decided to say nothing," he declared.

Most Lawbreakers in State Go Unpunished

Laxity Of City Police Departments Scored In Report By Operating Director Of Justice Association.

Kansas City, Feb. 11.—But few lawbreakers in St. Louis, Kansas City or St. Joseph are brought to justice; few even are arrested; fewer still are convicted, and of these, many escape punishment.

he laxity of city police departments in dealing with crime was scored by Arthur V. Lashley, operating director of the Missouri Association for Criminal Justice, here today. A report will be submitted at a meeting of representatives of the association here tonight. It deals with the police administration of the three principal cities of Missouri.

Of the 5,261 murders, manslaughters, robberies, burglaries and automobile thefts in Kansas City from October 1, 1923 to October 1, 1924, only 76 persons actually were punished, according to the report.

START ON AIR INVESTIGATION

CONGRESS CALLS SEC. DAVIS ON CARPET.

HOSTILITIES EXPOSED

Washington, Feb. 11.—The Congressional probe into charges that the war department is "muzzling" air service officers and whipping them into line to support the administration's air bill was under way today.

Secretary of War Davis has been asked to explain his investigation into the activities of the air officers opposition to the Morrow board's report. High ranking fliers have been called to tell in confidence whether they were being threatened with "guam" for telling tales out of school.

Meanwhile, the secret hostilities between the army general staff and the insurgent air men have broken into the open with the publication of a letter by Secretary of War Davis sharply criticizing Maj.-Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, for his stand on air measures.

Report That Davis Is to Run for Governor

Washington Rumor Mill Now Grinds Out Story That Secretary Davis Will Act In Coal Strike.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The political gossip mill of the capital, whirling industriously, ground out a new story today linking up a new effort to settle that anthracite coal strike with the next governorship of Pennsylvania.

Impossible of confirmation and equally impossible of complete denial, the story was going the rounds that Secretary of Labor Davis will soon announce his candidacy for the Republican nomination as governor of Pennsylvania.

With the backing of the powerful Mellon wing of the party, Davis will also be permitted to act as arbitrator of the strike and operators and miners will be solicited to accept his decision as final, according to this rumor factory at the capital.

Good Prices Paid at Henry Heitman Sale

Hamburg, Ia., Man Buys Jack for $700—Horses and Mules Also In Good Demand.

One of the best farm sale of the season was held this afternoon at the home of Henry Heitman, five miles southeast of Maryville.

The top price of the sale was $700, paid for a jack by Mr. Gude of Hamburg, Ia. Mr. Heitman offered five other jacks for sale, together with twenty-seven head of horses and mules, twelve head of cattle, 300 bushels of corn and a number of implements. He has rented his place to his sons, Ben and Lee Heitman, and will retire from active farming.

Allen Haller of Wilcox paid $370 for a pair of mules, the top price in that class. Another span of mules went to F. O. West of Ravenwood for $285.

A pair of mares was sold to Jacob Brunk of Maryville for $270, and a pair of fillies went to Virgil Vulgamott, also of Maryville for $272.50.

A large crowd of bidders was present and other good prices were being paid. The sale was advertised in the Democrat-Forum and Tribune.

CONTINUE TAX APPEAL BOARD

AMENDMENT PASSED WITHOUT RECORD VOTE BY SENATE.

MELLON OPPOSES CUT

Washington, Feb. 11.—The Senate today passed an amendment to the tax bill providing for continuance of the board of tax appeals with sixteen members to be appointed by the President. Terms of all present members expire on June 2 and the Senate authorized the President to appoint member at four, six, eight and ten-year intervals.

The amendment was passed without a record vote when Senator King, Democrat of Utah, announced he would not press a substitute limiting the members to twelve. The amendment provided that employes of the internal revenue bureau could not be appointed to the board until two years after enactment of the amendment.

Washington, Feb. 11—Their tax reduction program mangled under its own steam roller, leaders of the administration-Democratic coalition today viewed the scene of wreckage wrought in the Senate with provisions written into the new revenue bill slashing 451 million dollars from the tax burden of the American people.

This reduction was authorized when a progressive drive to reduce taxes on the "little fellow" became an open rebellion. What started as a zephyr ended as a tornado and it swept out of control of its own leaders only after the amusement taxes, admisison taxes and all automobile taxes had been repealed. The rebellion struck $99,600,000 from the original revenue program and increased the total tax reduction 151 million dollars beyond the "danger limit" set by Secretary of Treasury Mellon.

The series of defeats for the Senate finance committee was the greatest upset in the history of tax legislation.

The rebellion was provoked by Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, who, angered at the repeal of inheritance taxes, demanded greater reduction for the "little fellows."

Washington, Feb. 11—Secretary of Treasury Mellon today announced strong opposition to the 451-million-dollar tax reduction measure approved by the Senate. If enacted, the measure will force the government to spend more money than it collects, Mellon said. He is hopeful that in conference, the total tax reduction will be cut materially.

Mellon and President Coolidge have always insisted the reduction be within the 325-million-dollar limit. Unless the bill can be cut finally to Mellon's safety margin, he feels the government will be forced to issue bonds to pay ordinary expenses.

This, of course, would increase the national debt which the administration has been attempting to bring down gradually.

Mellon, however, does not plan to take any active steps to secure a reduction. He feels that the responsibility rests alone with Congress.

To Investigate Booze Parties at Kansas U.

Student Council of University Is Understood to Have Called Witnesses to Give Testimony.

Lawrence, Kan., Feb. 11.—Four men students of the University of Kansas were summoned before the student council last night in regard to student violators of the liquor laws, it was learned today. The council, it is understood is making an investigation into parties and reported "behavior unbecoming to university students" during the mid-season vacation week.

Two women students had previously withdrawn from the university.

Miss Laura Margaret Raines came last night from Lincoln, where she is a student at the Univeristy of Nebraska, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Raines, until Sunday.

Weather

Increasing cloudiness tonight, becoming unsettled Friday with possibly rain; warmer tonight, above freezing; colder Friday night.

BEARCATS WIN IN POOR FORM

WERE DECIDEDLY OFF

Locals Play Springfield Bears, Leaders Of Conference, at College Gymnasium Tonight.

There once was a fellow by the name of Newton who concocted a law which said, "For every action there is an opposite and equal reaction."

Such being the case, the State Teachers College Bearcats should play a whale of a game tonight against the Springfield Bears. If they do play a great game, their name should be changed to Finnegan, because they were certainly "off again" last night in the College gymnasium against the Cape Girardeau cagers.

The score of the game was 26 to 23. If the Maryville team had made half of the set-up shots which it had, the winning margin would have been increased five-fold.

It can now be understood why Kirksville won from the Bearcats in the first game of the season at Kirksville. Those who saw the game last night realize just how rotten a good team can look when it is "off." Time and again Maryville would work the ball down the court and then shoot wide of the basket, rim, backboard, and all. Time and again a Maryville pass would go wild and find a resting place in the hands of a Cape player. Time and again a Bearcat would dribble when he might have passed to a team-mate who was open. The team was just in a slump.

Each team made eleven field goals. Maryville had eight shots from the free throw line and made four of them. Cape Girardeau made good only once out of nine charity tosses.

The two two centers led in the scoring. Berst of Maryville counted five times from the field and once from the foul line, while Mahew, the Cape pivot, scored five field goals.

Burks, who usually is a heavy scorer for the Bearcats, had to content himself with one measley point last night. Captain Aldrich did only twice as well. Hedges, who was the sensation last week, bagged three two-pointers and a pair of singletons.

Buckminster, diminutive Cape guard, was the bulwark of both offense and defense for his team. He played a nice dribbling and passing game, and dropped in two neat field goals.

Tonight the Bearcats meet Springfield at 8 o'clock. John Bunn, who refereed last night, will again be master of the whistle.

The score:

Maryville (26)	G.	FT.	F.
Hedges, f	3	2	0
Aldrich, f	1	0	0
Berst, c	5	1	4
Burks, g	0	1	1
Joy, g	2	0	3
Blomfield, g	0	0	0
Total	11	4	8

Cape (23)	G.	FT.	F.
Kiehne, f	3	0	2
Hunter, f	1	1	1

H. S. TEAMS GO ON TRIPS

BOYS TO MEET LAFAYETTE OF ST. JOSEPH.

GIRLS TO TOURNEY

Local Sextet To Participate In Tri-State Meet At Tarkio Friday And Saturday.

Both Maryville High School basketball teams play away from home this week. The boys go to St. Joseph, where they will meet the Lafayette High School team in the Lafayette gymnasium tomorrow night and the girls' team will go to Tarkio to participate in the Tri-State tournament tomorrow and Saturday.

Coach Herbert will take ten men to St. Joseph with him. They will leave about 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in order to reach St. Joseph in time for the squad to take a light work-out in the Lafayette gymnasium. It is a poorly lighted structure, and Coach "Bill" Herbert wants to get his Spoofhounds used to it.

Those who will make the trip will be named after practice this afternoon.

Lafayette has a strong team this year. A pair of games have been split with Benton High of St. Joseph, and in the one which Lafayette lost, her two best players were out of the contest.

Coach Herbert may be handicapped tomorrow in that he may not get to use one of his regular guards, Petty. This boy is suffering from a cold, and may not be in condition to play.

Yesterday afternoon the Spoofhounds scrimmaged with the Tolles team. Today they will take a light work-out.

Miss Ruth bookman will take ten girls to Tarkio for the Tournament. They will be: C. and F. Wray, Puckett, Chick, Miller, Davis, Murray, Smith, Wright, and Todd.

About twelve teams will participate in the tournament, the drawing for which will be at 1 o'clock tomorrow. Play in the tourney will start at 1:30 o'clock.

The Maryville team will leave here at 9:30 in the morning, and will remain in Tarkio until the tourney ends or until it is eliminated.

A special correspondent will cover the games of the tourney for the Democrat-Forum and Tribune. Reports will be available whenever Maryville plays.

Mrs. Emmett Scott, who is suffering from an infection in the face, was taken to St. Francis Hospital last night for treatment.

These Twins Cost Their Team Loss of Fifteen Yards

Because Ray and Roy Britton are identical twins, they have caused many a mix-up in athletic circles at the Springfield State Teachers College. This morning Coach Andrew McDonald said that he couldn't tell which of the twins would start the game with the local Bearcats tonight.

"They look alike, and they play alike. How am I going to know which to start," he queried of John Bunn, a former class and team-mate.

Then McDonald went on to tell how the Brittons cost his team a 15-yard penalty in a football game against Rolla once.

"One of the Brittons was in the game," he said. "I substituted the second twin. The first one, who was already in the game, talked before a play had been made, and the referee penalized us because he thought it was the one I had just substituted."

Delivery Service.

I've got mine, Boys!

YOU'LL say so when you discover what a perfect peach of a home-rolled cigarette P. A. makes. Pull up a chair and pull down your vest and get an earful of this sweet music about a better cigarette tobacco. We're talking about Prince Albert, you bet.

First off, P. A. rolls easier. It's crimp-cut and stays put. All of it goes into the papers . . . every fragrant, nut-brown grain . . . not into your lap or all over the floor. It burns better for the same reason. Doesn't go out as soon as you lay it down.

And you won't lay it down often when you discover that wonderful taste of real tobacco. Cool. Fragrant. Friendly. The Prince Albert process cuts out bite and parch pos-i-tive-ly. Get a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag today and you've got the best there is for cigarettes.

This goes for pipes too. If you've envied the fellows who have found pipe-contentment, just see what a wonderful difference P. A. makes in the bowl of a jimmy-pipe. Pipe or cigarette, your tobacco troubles are over when you sign up with Prince Albert.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins and toppy red bags. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

All-in Every Evening? Beware of Chronic Fatigue

Thousands of men and women who come home exhausted, nervous and irritable every evening are really victims of—chronic fatigue.

TOO TIRED to walk upstairs

Chronic fatigue is an unnatural tiredness—usually due to lack of sufficient organic iron in the blood. To conquer it you must restore this iron to your blood. For this purpose nothing equals organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which is like the iron in your blood and like that in spinach and lentils. It will not injure the teeth or disturb the stomach like old-fashioned mineral iron medicines.

Take Nuxated Iron for just 2 weeks and notice how much stronger and better you feel. Money back if not improved. At all good druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD-AND BANISHES CHRONIC FATIGUE

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Grains made substantial gains in today's session on the Chicago Board of Trade. Strength in wheat was the dominant influence and was based on distinct strength in foreign markets and better cash demand.

Generally speaking wheat did not display any marked change in pace. There was improvement noted in buying but it represented reinstatement of recently sold-out lines. Only the fact that there was no great pressure from actual grain prevented a more erratic undertone. Domestic news was more encouraging. Flour business increased and had a natural reflection on cash trade at principal markets.

Eastern houses and shorts supported corn late in the session. Oats firmed up late with other grains. Cash business was greatly improved.

Provisions staged a good comeback after suffering severe slumps under heavy pressure.

Local Car Owners Lag in Purchasing Licenses

Of 154 Issued Yesterday, Only 27 Went To Maryville Motorists—1,333 Tags Sold So Far.

One hundred and fifty-four state automobile licenses were sold at the Maryville Chamber of Commerce office yesterday, bringing the total for nine days up to 1,333. Only twenty-seven of the licenses issued yesterday went to Maryville residents.

"Those who delay purchasing their licenses until the last few days will deeply regret it for it is inevitable that they will have to wait in line much longer than they will for the next week or ten days," D. A. Caldwell in charge of distribution, said this morning.

Last Saturday afternoon, four persons were kept busy taking care of the applications for licenses. In spite of this, however, there was a long line of automobile owners waiting for licenses. This is the condition which will exist throughout the latter part of the month, Mr. Caldwell predicted.

To reduce the delay to the minimum, all Maryville licenses should be purchased not later than next Friday, February 19, Mr. Caldwell requests.

Will Wonders Never Cease

From Fashions Capricious Mind?

Each season she surprises us more than ever before, offering more and more beautiful creations until we are certain she has reached her limit. But no, the advance modes we have received for this Spring indicate a new distinction never yet attained.

What beauty of line in the smartly molded, smartly flowing silhouette. What luxury of fabric and richness of color in the new silks, plain or fantastically printed, the fascinating cottons—and wonderful sport woolens! To see them is to adore them.

Springfield Squad Arrives Today Noon

Andrew McDonald, Coach, Not Certain What His Starting Line-Up Tonight Will Be.

The Springfield Teachers College basketball squad, nine strong, arrived in Maryville at noon today. Rather, eight members of the squad came at noon. Andrew McDonald, the coach, and Davis, the captain, arrived last night to see the Cape Girardeau game.

Coach McDonald took his squad to the College gymnasium this afternoon for a light work-out "to get the men accustomed." Afterward, he was not certain whom he would start tonight.

Captain Davis will be at one forward, one of the twin Brittons will jump center, and Ward and either Clark or Mumford will be the guards. Dodd or Fox will be the running mate for Captain Davis at forward. Carter is the other player.

M. I. A. A. Standings.

Team	W.	L.	Pct.	Pts.	OP
Springfield	2	0	1.000	62	45
Maryville	3	1	.750	109	97
Cape Girardeau	1	2	.333	88	75
Warrensburg	1	2	.333	67	104
Kirksville	1	3	.250	93	98

Maryville advanced another notch in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association percentage column by virtue of the victory last night over Cape Girardeau. The Bearcats now hold a strong grasp on second place, while the Capesters share third place honors with Warrensburg.

Four teams play tonight. Springfield and Maryville play here, while Cape Girardeau meets Kirksville at Kirksville. If the locals win, they will go to the top of the per cent list, but regardless of the outcome of the Cape-Kirksville game, Springfield can drop no lower than second place.

A Bearcat victory will make them hold a percentage of .800; a defeat will drop them to .600. Regardless of the outcome of the other game tonight, they, too, cannot drop below second station.

Cape Girardeau plays Warrensburg at Warrensburg tomorrow night, and on Saturday, Springfield will be entertained at Kirksville.

No matter how the other games this week come out, the conference standing will be shifted materially. Monday morning, the mighty Springfield team might be in third place, and the Cape quintet second to Maryville.

The YELLOW STUB

by Ernest Lynn

COPYRIGHT 1926 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

HENRY RAND, 55, a business man, is found murdered in a cheap hotel in GRAFTON. Police find a woman's handkerchief and a yellow ticket stub from a theater in Springfield.

JIMMY RAND, Henry's son, goes to Springfield. The ticket stub is traced to a THOMAS FOGARTY, who says he gave it to OLGA MAYNARD, a cabaret singer. Police search for her.

Jimmy meets and falls in love with MARY LOWELL and gets a job at her office. Later he encounters Olga Maynard and she faints when he tells her she is suspected of murder. Mary, out with SAMUEL CHURCH, a wealthy lawyer, sees Jimmy lifting Olga into a taxi. The next day she doesn't speak to him. He is discharged later that day.

Police arrest Olga and confront her with the ticket stub and handkerchief. She admits they are hers but believes a man who took her to a cabaret two nights before the murder might have got hold of them.

Then he saw the envelope on the telephone stand. It was sealed but unaddressed.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV.

Olga Maynard stared unseeingly at the handkerchief O'Day held in his hand. She was silent.

"Who was the man?" O'Day repeated.

"I don't know." She lifted her arms helplessly and let them drop.

"What do you mean, you don't know who it was?" O'Day began angrily.

"You—"

"Just what I said," she said resignedly. "I don't know who it was. I never saw him before that night."

"You expect me to believe that?" The lieutenant had risen to his feet. He was bending over her menacingly. "Look here—either you're lying when you say you weren't in the Canfield Hotel or you're lying when you say you don't know who this man was. Which is it?"

"I told you it would sound like a weak alibi. I knew you'd think I was lying. If you'll listen I'll explain. You still won't believe me, I guess, but every word's true. I swear it is."

"Go ahead, Miss Maynard," encouraged Jimmy. "We're listening."

"You probably get the idea from the lieutenant, Mr. Rand," she said, "that I'm not a—a very nice woman. All right, maybe I'm not, according to your way of thinking. The man I went out with that night spoke to me in the lobby of the Paragon Theater as I was coming out. He picked me up, if you want to put it that way."

She looked appealingly at Jimmy. He nodded his head. "Go on," he said.

"Maybe you've never been broke and lonesome and out of a job," she continued, half to herself. "It isn't a very nice feeling.

"When he asked me to go some place where we could eat and dance, I went with him. He had a bottle of liquor with him, and he got drunk. He tried to make me drink and I wouldn't. That's why he got mad. I never drink unless I know who I'm with. He said a few things to me that I didn't like, so I got my pocketbook from him and went home.

"That's all there is to it," she finished.

"A fine story," scoffed Lieutenant O'Day. "I suppose you'll say next that you don't know what he looked like. D'you suppose you could tell us that, or did you forget that, too?"

"I remember what he looked like, all right. I'm not apt to forget that. He was a big man—a regular giant—with long arms and big, freckled hands. I was afraid of him when he got to drinking."

"What kind of hair did he have?" Jimmy asked.

"Red hair. Light red. It was cut short at the sides. Just long enough on top to part it."

"Lieutenant," said Jimmy. "I think she's telling the truth. That's the description the hotel clerk gave of the man who registered as H. A. Jones of New York. He said the man had his hat on—pulled down over his eyes so he couldn't see much of his face. But he described him as a big man with close-cut red hair. He said he had rather large ears. Did you notice, Miss Maynard?"

"Yes. He did."

"I'll be darned if I know what to do," said O'Day. We can't let her go here, even if we wanted to. We're holding her for the police in Grafton. I'll telegraph Mooney."

"What do you suppose they'll do?" Jimmy asked. Olga Maynard was sitting dejectedly, holding her head in her hands.

"They'll fix it so she can't get away until they find this man she's talking about. They've got enough to go before the grand jury and get an indictment for murder. I suppose that's what Mooney will try to do."

"Do you mean they'll—they'll charge me with murder?" She raised her head and gazed at the police officer, dull hopelessness in her eyes.

O'Day looked at Jimmy when he answered. "They'll want to be able to put their hands on her whenever they want to. We're holding her on suspicion. First degree murder's unbailable. If the grand jury indicts her, they'll be able to keep her in jail."

He turned to Olga. "Your story might be all right if you could produce the man—but until you do you'll have a hard time getting a jury to believe it."

"But if he is allowed to go free she might be able to find the man," Jimmy suggested. "If she's in jail, he might run around town here without anybody to identify him."

"That's true enough, Rand. But on the other hand, if we let her loose she might beat it out of town."

"No, I won't. I swear I won't, Lieutenant," she cried.

O'Day shrugged. "It's out of my hands. I'll hold you here until Mooney comes and gets you. Then we're through. It's his case—not ours."

"Then I'm going to Grafton tonight and make arrangements to have her freed," said Jimmy.

"You'll have to talk the district attorney out of trying to get an indictment."

"All right. I'll try that. It seems to me that I have as strong an interest in this case as the state has. I'm satisfied she's telling the truth. We need her to help us find the real murderer. I've maintained from the first, Lieutenant, that no woman was involved in this case. I said it when they first showed me the handkerchief and I said it again when Fogarty told us he had given his theater ticket to a woman.

"I'm going to Grafton to get hold of a lawyer."

"There's plenty of them here, Rand," observed O'Day dryly.

"I have one in mind. He's the best friend I've got."

He turned to Olga. "When I come back, Miss Maynard, they're going to let you go, and you and I are going to find that man. He doesn't know we're looking for him, so he won't be hiding. You're going to look for him every evening—do you hear?"

He thought he had never seen anything so pitiful in his life as when she turned a tearful face to him and said, "I'll try, Mr. Rand. I'll try awful hard."

* * *

He stopped in a telegraph office and sent a wire to Detective Mooney and another to Barry Colvin. At the railroad station he was able to get a lower berth on the train leaving for Grafton at ten o'clock.

It was a later train than he had planned to take, but there was no choice; there were no berths left on the other. He decided to eat dinner at a downtown restaurant and then go home and throw a few things in his traveling bag.

On the way to his room he walked slowly, trying to formulate some plan of action. He must get hold of Barry, and have Barry argue with the district attorney against indicting Olga Maynard for murder. Barry was a friend of the district attorney; once they had both worked for the same law firm.

In front of his rooming house he almost collided in the darkness with a man coming through the gate.

"I'm sorry," he murmured as the other stepped quickly to one side to avoid a collision.

The man lowered his head and walked swiftly away. "He might have had the decency to accept my apology," Jimmy muttered. "Still, I guess I'd better watch where I'm going. I almost knocked him down. Wonder if he lives here?"

Mrs. King, the landlady, was in the hall when he entered the house.

"Is that you, Mr. Rand?" she said in surprise. "I thought I heard you moving around in your room a few minutes ago."

"I was in earlier in the evening, Mrs. King, but I went out again. I've been gone about three hours."

"I could have sworn I heard you just a few minutes ago, Mr. Rand. I didn't hear you go out and I thought you were still here."

"By the way, I'm going out of town tonight. Going to Grafton. I expect to be back day after tomorrow. No phone calls for me, were there?"

"No."

On his way upstairs he was thinking of Mary Lowell. "I don't know why I think she'd call me up," he said to himself. "I guess I'm a plain darn fool to think of it even."

In his room he threw some clothing and toilet articles into his bag, lit a cigaret and sat down for a smoke before leaving for the railroad station. It was then that he saw an envelope on the telephone stand. He picked it up. It was sealed, but unaddressed. Puzzled, he tore it open and read it, and then sank back in his chair in amazement.

Written in pencil, in a scrawly, amateurish hand, were the words:

"If you want to keep out of trouble, leave town and leave quick."

"Now who in Sam Hill could have written that?" he said aloud. "If someone's trying to scare me off, they've run up the wrong tree. Still, I don't know of anyone—"

His reflections were cut short by the voice of Mrs. King. "Telephone, Mr. Rand."

His heart gave a leap. "If it's only Mary—but no, she wouldn't—He lifted the receiver and then almost dropped it in surprise.

A voice said: "Did you get that note?"

"Did I what?"

"You heard what I said. There's a note in your room. Read it."

Jimmy went hot with rage. "I read your infernal note, and you can—"

"Never mind what I can do. All you have to do is to do what it says."

The receiver clicked.

MANY OFFICES TO BE FILLED

COMING ELECTION BRINGS LARGE FIELD OF CANDIDATES.

SEVERAL FOR SENATOR

Race For Supreme Judge Also to Be Closely Contested.—Congressmen Seek Re-election.

Jefferson City, Feb. 11. (United Press).—Missouri this year will elect a United States Senator, a judge of the State Supreme Court, state superintendent of schools, sixteen Congressmen and seventeen State Senators.

The party candidates for the offices will be selected at the August primary and the general election will be in November.

Apparently there will be a large field of candidates for United States Senator and Judge of the Supreme Court.

Senator George H. Williams of St. Louis, who is filling the unexpired term of the late Senator Selden P. Spencer, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination to succeed himself. While no Republican has announced against Senator Williams, it is conceded in official circles at the capital he will have no opposition for the nomination.

The announced candidates for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator are Judge Ewing B. Cockreil, Warrensburg, Willis H. Meredith, Popular Bluff, Harry B. Hawes, St. Louis, and Robert I. Young, St. Joseph.

Judge Robert W. Otto, who was appointed a member of the Supreme Court by Governor Baker to succeed the late Judge A. M. Woodson, is a candidate for the Republican nomination to succeed himself on the bench.

David W. Peters of this city, Cole County's Representative in the General Assembly, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Supreme Judge.

The Democratic candidates for Supreme Judge are George R. Ellison, Maryville, Col. Carl L. Ristine, Lexington, Judge Ernest S. Gantt, Mexico, and former State Senator Mark S. McGruder, Sedalia. Robert L. Ward of Caruthersville, has shown a desire to enter the race for the democratic judicial nomination. Judge C. L. Henson of Mt. Vernon announced yesterday he had decided not to run.

George W. Reavis, director of vocational education for Missouri, and W. S. Smith, superintendent of public schools, are candidates for the Republican nomination for State Superintendent of Schools.

Charles A. Lee, state superintendent of schools, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination to succeed himself. It is believed he will be unopposed for the nomination.

Indications now point to all of the Missouri Congressmen being candidates to succeed themselves with the exception of Congressman Hawes of the Eleventh District of St. Louis. His withdrawal from the Congressional District to make the race for Senator means there will be several candidates seeking the seat in Congress.

The Congressmen who are expected to be candidates to succeed themselves are:

First District, M. A. Romje, Democrat; Second District, Ralph F. Lozier, Carrollton, Democrat; Fourth District, Charles L. Faust, St. Joseph, Republican; Fifth District, Edgar C. Ellis, Kansas City, Republican; Sixth District, C. C. Dickinson, Clinton, Democrat; Seventh District, Sam C. Major, Fayette, Democrat; Eighth District, William Nelson, Columbia, Democrat; Ninth District, Clarence Cannon, Troy, Democrat; Tenth District, Cleveland A. Newton, St. Louis, Republican; Twelfth District, L. C. Dyer, St. Louis, Republican; Thirteenth District, C. E. Keifner, Perryville, Republican; Fourteenth District, Ralph E. Bailey, Sikeston, Republican; Fifteenth District, Joe J. Manlove, Joplin, Republican; Sixteenth District, Thomas L. Rubey, Lebanon, Democrat.

State Senators Nick T. Cave of Fulton, and William R. Painter of Carrollton, have announced their candidacies for the Democratic nomination to succeed themselves from the tenth and eighth senatorial districts, respectively.

The terms of the following Senators expire this year and they are expected to be candidates to succeed themselves:

Second District, E. R. James, St. Joseph, Democrat; Fourth District, O. A. Pickett, Trenton, Republican; Sixth District, Walter Brownlee, Brookfield, Democrat; Twelfth District, W. M. McMurry, Rutledge, Democrat; Fourteenth District, Frank Quigley, Tipton, Republican; Sixteenth District, Sam M. Snodgrass, Eldorado Springs, Democrat; Eighteenth District, Larry Brunk, Aurora, Republican; Twenty-Second District, S. A. Cunningham, Cabool, Democrat; Twenty-fourth District, Frank H. Farris, Rolla, Democrat; Twenty-eighth District, A. L. McCawley, Carthage, Democrat; Thirteenth District, William F. Depelheuer, St. Louis, Republican; Thirty-second District, Peter Anderson, St. Louis, Republican.

NEWS FROM MISSOURI CITIES AND TOWNS

Columbia, Mo., Feb. 11.—A petition has been filed with the county court here asking that body to call a special election to vote on $1,000,000 in bonds for improvement of the county roads. No action has been taken.

Poplar Bluff, Mo., Feb. 11.—George Jordan, assistant editor of the Missouri Ruralist, has purchased 640 acres of land near Ellington and plans to start farming on a large scale immediately. Sixty acres of the land is to be used as an orchard, Jordan announced.

Cape Girardeau, Mo., Feb. 11.—The First Presbyterian Church here has voted to proceed with a campaign to raise $100,000 for a new church here. Numerous church plans were discussed before the $100,000 project was decided on.

Columbia, Mo., Feb. 11.—The University of Missouri swimming team will hold its first competitive swimming meet in the Women's gymnasium on Feb. 20. The program of events includes dashes, distance swimming, free style, particular strokes, diving and relay races.

Upon the results of this meet will depend whether the University of Missouri will send swimmers to the Missouri Valley Conference swimming meet to be held at Washington University in St. Louis, March 12 and 13.

Brookfield, Mo., Feb. 11.—Modern need has resulted in the tearing down of one of Brookfield's earliest landmarks and one of the relics of the civil war.

The building which was used during the civil war as a barrack for the cavalry men that protected Brookfield and the Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad property has been used by the North Missouri Lumber Company. It is being torn down to make room for a modern office structure.

Bullets were found imbedded in the thick walls of the building, evidently the work of snipers during the war. Horse shoes and other proofs were found under the building bringing back to memory of the old times the days and nights of vigil when the countryside was an armed camp.

St. Louis, Feb. 11.—The question "Resolved that Congress should not adopt Colonel William Mitchell's plan for a single department of national defense with three equal branches of army, navy and air," will be the subject of the debate here on February 19 between the University of Missouri and Washington University debaters.

Fayette, Mo., Feb. 11.—Dr. Stratton D. Brooks president of the University of Missouri, has joined the list of educators of the state in endorsing the endowment plan for Central college here. He said:

"The University of Missouri encourages students to spend the first two years of their college career in institutions near home, coming to the university for professional or advanced work. We welcome the development of other colleges of the state and will be pleased to render any and every assistance possible in increasing their resources and influences."

Loses Hands, Gains Mother

Francis Murray, 15, lost both his hands when a torpedo cap exploded as he was handling it at the Houston, Tex., fair grounds. But newspaper stories about the accident resulted in his reunion with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Murray Long of Indianapolis, who had placed him in an orphanage years ago and lost track of him. She has taken him home with her, and he says, "It's worth losing my hands to have a mother."

MODEL MAYOR TAKES NO PAY

JACKSONVILLE, ILL., BOASTS OF UNIQUE OFFICIAL.

12 YEAR SALARY $12

Commissioners, Elected on "Pay" Platform, Also Decide To Renounce Stipend.

Jacksonville, Ill., Feb. 11.—(United Press).—When scandals in city governments are reported Jacksonville people smile and think of their own "model mayor," Ed Crabtree.

In fact Crabtree is known throughout Southern Illinois as the model mayor for his 12 years record as city executive.

Twelve years ago the town realized that about all there was left of the city government was debts. Credit was almost impossible. So Crabtree was drafted as mayor at a mass meeting.

The mayor glanced over the situation and decided that there was no need of a mayor receiving more than $1 a year. So he cut his salary and there was a howl. It was claimed that Crabtree couldn't afford to serve for nothing unless he was receiving outside patronage.

The mayor laughed and pointed out that there was entirely too much money being spent on salaries for city employes—therefore he favors no salary.

The commissioners at that time agreed on the same thing.

Crabtree has served at the nominal salary at the city's helm ever since and his entire salary during that time has been $12.

Recently two new commissioners were elected on a "pay" platform. Their arguments were they would be able to devote more time to city problems provided they received some compensation for their loss of time from business.

After a short time in office both renounced the pay idea and are serving on $1 a year salaries, convinced it is the best method.

Union Would Test Validity of Law

Railway Union Asks Suits, Filed By Unauthorized Strikers For Benefits Be Thrown Out.

Jefferson City, Feb. 11.—A suit to test the validity of the 1915 Missouri statute which limits voluntary unincorporated fraternal organizations to be sued without permitting their suing in return was filed in the Supreme Court today by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

The suit is brought here in the form of a writ of prohibition against John Calhoun, presiding judge of the St. Louis Circuit court, prohibiting him or any member of the St. Louis court from taking cognizance of suits filed against the brotherhood.

The action which resulted in the case being brought to the higher court is a suit filed by 961 rebelling members of the order who walked out on an unauthorized strike in April, 1920. The brotherhood refused to pay them strike benefits.

Convicts to Quarry Rock for State Roads

Fifty Trusties Will Be Worked Near Columbia.—Old Gravel Road Built By Prison Labor.

Columbia, Mo., Feb. 11. (INS).—Convict labor will be used for quarrying rocks for State Highway No. 2 and already several of them have been hauling gravel and sand from Jefferson City to Columbia to build a form for the rock crusher.

The rock will be taken from the farm of John C. Long near here and a prison barracks will be constructed on the farm to house the convicts.

The crusher is now at Sweet Springs and it will be several weeks before it can be moved from there. Col. W. B. McGregor, member of the prison boards, said, he intends to work a force of fifty trusties and station them at the quarry when the weather moderates. The state furnishes all material for the highway and lets the construction out by contract.

This will be the third time convicts have been employed in improving this main Missouri highway. They were used in reducing Mineola hill just east of Mineola and the Millersburg special road district gravel road, reaching from the Fulton Special Road District to the Boone County line, was built with convict labor.

SPEED WITH CULTURE

A University professor of philosophy in New York believes that "speed" and "money" are killing culture. They have come to be "deadly values," things which the modern man imagines he prizes most. The danger is, according to the professor, that he may really come to prize them most, forgetting the true values of beauty and wisdom and character.

"The ideal of distant communication in the twinkling of an eye appeals to us as worth while," he says, "even when the distant place or person may be of no importance. We revere radio, and have set up its million altars for no other reason than that we can listen to the most commonplace entertainment at the greatest distance.

"Another age would have hesitated to annihilate space and time the way we grind them up in our machines. They would have feared the envy of the gods."

There is much truth in what he says. There is danger of losing the real good obtainable through our modern machines in the thrill of the machines themselves. Civilization sometimes seems to need a breathing spell in which to rest from material things and to let the things of the spirit re-assert themselves.

THE "NORDIC MYTH"

According to John Langdon-Davies, an English sociologist now lecturing in this country, we've been all wrong about this Nordic stuff.

"No findings of science," he says, "have yet given us reason for the claim that our race is intellectually superior. The myth of Nordic supremacy is an example of a pernicious and stupid point of view.

"Such a claim might be made by any race, starting with the anthropoid ape and culminating with itself. As a matter of fact, when our ancestors were roaming about Europe in extreme decolette attire, the Chinese had a great culture. How reasonable it would have been to have established a myth of Mongolian supremacy!"

Our sociological visitor must admit that in one respect, at least, we Nordics have the world beaten. That's in our self-esteem.

The bread trust seems to have gotten a heavy jolt right in the bread basket.

Some paragraphers are worrying about the names to be put on Pullman cars. Why not let the Pullman Company handle that question?

The most disturbing factor in the world's move toward universal peace is Mussolini of Italy. With his temperament, his ability to control people, and to stamp out opposition, and his penchant for rattling the saber, he may become a positive menace to the peace of the world. The world has looked upon his experiment in Italy as Italy's affair and has been content to let him run and rave so long as Italy is content but the time may come and soon when the balance of the world will view his acts and utterances with apprehension and concern. The world, outside of Italy, wants peace and is moving along nicely in that direction and Italy probably would be contributing more toward world peace with a leader of a different type. It is not conceivable that the people of that country are aching for further war more than in other countries that suffered from the last one.

All Veterans Urged to Convert Insurance

Washington, Feb. 11. (United Press)—General Frank T. Hines, director of the Veterans Bureau, today appealed to all former service men to reinstate and convert their war risk insurance before the law for accepting such applications expires.

Application for insurance will be accepted prior to July 2, and no matter how long a time has passed since the last premium was paid, an ex-service man in good health may apply for reinstatement and conversion of $1,000 or any higher amount up to $10,000 of the amount of insurance he carried while in the service.

Veterans can convert their old war insurance policies into ordinary life, 20 payment life, 30 payment life, 20 year endowment, 30 year endowment, or endowment maturing at the age of 62. All six policies have dividend features, 31 days of grace for late payments, and borrowing values.

Local Option Wins in German Elections

Berlin, Feb. 11—(United Press).—Straw votes on local option, held in sixty German cities, townships and rural communities, with one exception have resulted in favor of this first step toward prohibition in Germany.

They were held under the auspices of the "League against Alcoholism," the central organization of German prohibition and temperance societies, and were conducted in various parts of the country. Test ballots were even held in South Germany, the native haunt of beer drinkers.

German citizens were intensely interested in the question. Participation at the polls wer equal to that at general political elections.

On the average 75 per cent of the voters favored local option. This average was greatly exceeded at Hamburg and Bremen, Germany's most important sea ports. In these towns respectively 87 and 90 per cent of the total vote was cast for local option.

MARLAND OILS

"the four wheel brakes" of Lubrication

Quick

Marland Super Motor Oil runs quickly to the surfaces to be lubricated, spreads over them, forming a lasting, protective film.

With it a motor is more quickly started. It is more efficient at both low and high temperatures and begins to function quicker than other oils.

It has intensive penetrating qualities and "carries over" during the time the motor is idle.

Safe

The permanency of the oil film is such that the tendency to score is greatly reduced. The motor will still be well lubricated when the quantity of oil is reduced beyond the safety point in other oils.

STRIKING AND VIGOROUS LINES, THE NEW FRESHMAN MASTERPIECE

Left, Thomas W. Duncan, writer of the accompanying criticism of university life. Above, a page from "The Wampus," student publication at the University of Southern California. Branding the material as "shady," university authorities expelled the four students responsible.

Editor's Note: Thomas W. Duncan, a senior at Drake University, Des Moines, Ia., recently elected "student philosopher" of the school, has aroused much comment recently by writing for his college paper, The Delphic, a biting criticism of university life. Accordingly, NEA Service asked him to summarize his views on modern college life in a special article, and that article is herewith presented.

To show that Mr. Duncan is not a student who has been soured by being left out of those college activities that he criticizes, the following excerpt from a letter from him is printed:

"This story is not written by an outsider looking in; rather, by an insider looking out. For, here at Drake, I have been connected with the radical group, also with four fraternities—one of them a local social, one a local dramatic, and two national professionals. This is not a sour-grapes attack!

"I have represented my college on the varsity debating squad, I have served as Delphic editor for over a year, and now I am Delphic columnist. I have known four o'clock dates, hot dances, etc. In other words, I am just the ordinary college student."

By THOMAS W. DUNCAN.

Written Exclusively for NEA Service and the Democrat-Forum and Tribune.

If William Shakespeare were a student in a modern American college he would be politely snubbed.

If Shelley were to enroll tomorrow at any one of our middlewestern universities, every fraternity would pass him up as "queer."

Lord Byron would be booted from the campus before a week had passed, and I doubt very much if Swift or Voltaire would be allowed to attend classes more than three days.

The self-termed "ideal college student" of today must not be unusual or extraordinary if he expects to remain in the favor of his fellow students. He must be ordinary to the nth degree; he must be excruciatingly normal. Indeed, if he is just a trifle subnormal he is much more likely to "make" a good fraternity.

He must believe implicitly that the varsity football squad is composed of young gods, that the half-baked opinions of his instructors are final, that the "ole school spirit" is "great stuff," and, above all, that his fraternity, his group, his university are above criticism.

The university of today is an immense varnishing works where one learns to dance, play bridge and poker, carry a load of alcohol gracefully, and, incidentally, to invent clever excuses for undone work. It is a convenient place to which John and Mary may go from East Butterville in order to have the rough edges and sharp corners smoothed down and sandpapered.

John dons a pair of wide pants, a checkered necktie, and becomes "collegiate." Mary learns from the "actives" the preferred "line" of her sorority, the proper fork to use, the technique of a moonlight date, and her education is complete.

When She "Pets"

If her sorority "pets," she "pets," and the male half of the campus knows her as "a hot little number;" if her group refrains from "petting" for policy's sake, she remains slightly aloof when her boy friend crowds a bit too close, and she is known in fraternity halls as "a dam' good allround girl." Of course she smokes and now and then sips a bit of throat-scorching hooch from a silver hip flask—it is a very ordinary procedure and, in fact, expected. . . . .

Now, to the sophisticated mind, these things are not a bit shocking. But here is the hitch: Mary considers herself a "college student" and is so considered by others. John readily admits that he is a "college student."

Back in East Butterville papa and mama are proud to refer to their offspring as "college students."

The term is a misnomer. John and Mary are no more students than Henry the Eighth was a woman hater. John and Mary are merely collegiates, certainly not "students."

John can tell you all about the works of Zane Grey, and Mary is well acquainted with the current "Confessional" literature, but neither knows nor cares a whit about Henry Menckeu, Carl Van Vechten, Edgar Lee Masters, Joseph Conrad, Sinclair Lewis, Rabelais, Gen Jonson, James Branch Cabell, John Keats, Robert Herrick, Rupert Brooks, etc. To speak of Grieg, Wagner or Chopin is to open one-self to the danger of being classed a "highbrow." Rodin, Aubrey Beardsley and Sargent are unknown. . . .

There are, of course, the outcasts, the thinking minority. Circumstances force them together. Invariably they are known as "the radicals." Sometimes they are rebels, it is true, but the college rebel is not possessed with a nefarious heart. He merely wants to poke into things for himself—cut-and-dried pedantry is obnoxious to him.

Degrees Are Easy

It is not at all difficult to obtain a degree from the universities in Middle America—on the contrary it is almost unbelievably easy. Like stray curs into the sausage machine our young people are tossed into the college atmosphere; like the dogs they must needs conform to the steel lines of the machine; and, like the dogs also, they emerge from the machine at the end of four years in strings of nice little link sausages, all alike, hopelessly alike. . . . .

The courses in a modern middle western university are designed for the dumbbell. The obvious is always insisted upon. Simple, patent, facts are emphasized. And these gullible youngsters, these Johns and Marys labor under the delusion that they are becoming educated, cultured.

One can hardly blame the poor professors. It is what John and Mary wish. Classes are meant to be only slight, unpleasant interruptions in the social whirl.

Over half of the people in our colleges should not be there. They have neither the inclination nor the capacity for a rigorous course of study.

Our universities need a general housecleaning. They should be cleared of the rubbish of athletics, fraternities and sororities, and four o'clock dates. Then, perhaps, we should have educational institutions comparable to such old world universities as Cambridge, Oxford and Heidelberg. Until then, the modern college student will remain a dolt.

I want to mention a remark once made by Bob Ingersol. He said, in substance, that colleges were places where pebbles were polished and diamonds were dimmed. And, as usual, he was right!

St. Louis County Banker Saved an Operation by a Home Treatment

Note: It would be illegal to publish these statements if not true.

W. J. Vance, Banker, Valley Park, Mo., says: "Two days before using Sorbol-Quadruple, I had a bad hemorrhage in my throat caused by tightening which produced severe coughing. Twenty-four hours from first application of Sorbol-Quadruple I felt relief, and in forty-eight hours noticed it was reducing. In three weeks, one side has vanished and the relief is beyond expression. You make use of this and I will gladly answer all questions."

HELP FOR OLD FOLKS.

Old Age Should Be Happy—Not A Time of Sickness and Suffering.

Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant backache, urinary ills and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause and, if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold! Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's.

Here is Maryville proof:

T. J. Puckett, 521 S. Market St., says: "A cold disordered my kidneys. Sometimes when I stopped, sharp catches took me through the small of my back and it was hard to raise up all at once. Then, too, a dull aching set in across my back and kept up two or three days at a time. Finally, I used Doan's Pills and several boxes from Gaugh & Evans' Drug Store rid me of the attack."

Why He Succeeded

From hard work on a farm to the study of medicine in Cincinnati, where he was graduated, was the course which Dr. R. V. Pierce took.

In his younger days he practiced medicine over a large district. It was then the new oil fields near Titusville, Pa. Finally he determined to put up some of his prescriptions in ready-to-use form in order to reach a larger number of families.

He thus moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and established the World's Dispensary, where he put up Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the blood as well as the Favorite Prescription for women, carefully preparing them from roots, barks, and herbs and placed them with druggists everywhere.

During many years Dr. Pierce's Discovery, for the blood, has been sold in larger quantities by druggists all over the United States than any other medicine. It is a tonic in its effects on the stomach and digestive apparatus; an alterative in its action on the blood, liver and skin. It increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, enriches the blood, and makes both men and women feel as they did when they were young and care free.

Ask your nearest druggist for Doctor Pierce's Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y.

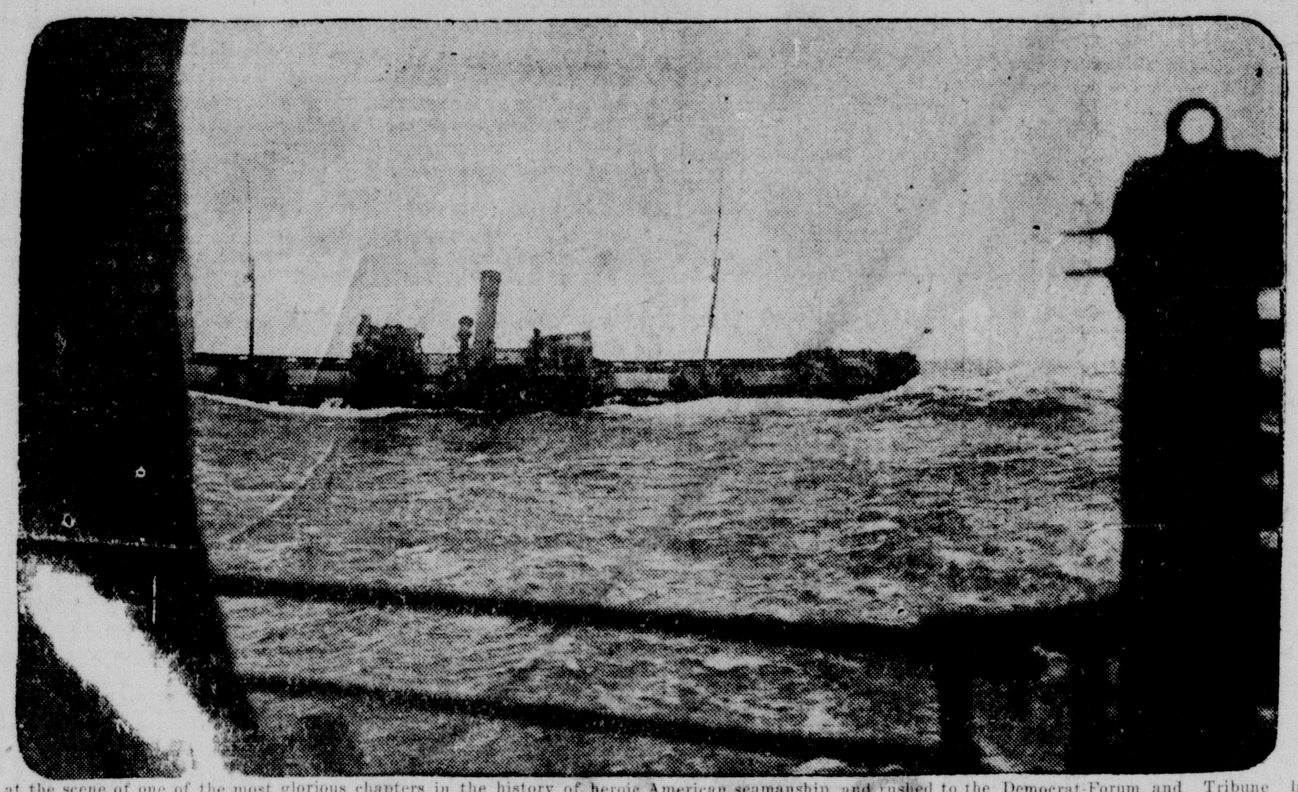
ANTINOE RESCUE SCENE



Made at the scene of one of the most glorious chapters in the history of heroic American seamanship, and rushed to the Democrat-Forum and Tribune by boat, airplane, and express train, this photograph shows the sinking British steamship Antinoe just after the last of her crew of 25 men had been saved in mid-Atlantic by the American lin r President Roosevelt. The view is from one of the rescue ship's gangway entrances. To reach the reeling waterlogged, and doomed Antinoe, the President Roosevelt fought for 84 hours a nerve-wracking battle with hurricane-like winds and mountainous seas. Two of the President Roosevelt seamen paid for the gallant victory with their lives. King George of England awarded decorations to Captain George Fried of the President oRosevelt and the other rescue heroes, and their courage was acclaimed around the world.

Dopesters Begin Speculation on Baseball in the Major Leagues

New York, Feb. 11.—General opinion seems to be favoring the Pittsburgh Pirates, the New York Giants and the Cincinnati Reds for the National League pennant and the Washington Senators, the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Yankees as the ranking American League prospects.

The strength of the Pirates and the Giants is a known quantity, but the power of the Cincinnati club is not a certainty, depending as it does largely upon the recovery of Adolfo Luque from a recent operation and a return to form by Wally Pipp, the former Yankee first baseman.

Washington's chances for another American League pennants are figured good, simply because the club will be represented largely by the same players who have won two consecutive championships.

The Senators, however, are an aging ball club and they may go to pieces with a sudden collapse as the Yankees did last year. The Senators probably will not be as strong as they were last year and the Athletics and the Yankees are almost certain to be much stronger.

There is a growing hunch that the two St. Louis clubs should not be denied a chance and, perhaps, a very good chance. The Cards came to life last year under the management of Rogers Hornsby and they are sure to be stronger this year. The Browns also ran an improved club and they probably will not have the competition in their league that the Cards will in the National League.

Ban Johnson, president of the American League, was asked for his opinion about the chances of the Browns and he replied to a St. Louis sports editor:

"If the Browns start the season with the determination to get to the front that they showed in the latter part of last season they should have an equal chance with any club in the league. The Browns as they were at the finish of the 1925 season are stronger than they have been for many years. The outlook is good for them because of the prospect of better pitching."

Johnson also said that he had heard good reports about the Cards.

Some of the major league club owners resent the factetious way in which they are handled at times by the baseball writers.

But when they make ridiculous statements they should not be spared.

Loud laughs, not only from the baseball writers, arose recently when Clarke Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, announced solemnly that Muddy Ruel, perhaps the best catcher in the American League was to be benched next year in favor of Ben Tate.

When the report was heard along Broadway, a wise old baseball sage, remarked—"Muddy must be holding out."

A few days later Griffith mentioned Ruel's name among twenty or more of his players who were holding out for more money and he threatened to start the season with a managerless team of bush leaguers if they didn't accept his terms.

"It's easy to get a manager," Griffith said.

Perhaps it was easy to get a manager like Bucky Harris but we'll dare Griffith to go out and get another like him for any money.

When club owners let it become public that their club was well off enough to crack a 40 per cent dividend, financial arguments with the employees are sure to result.

SPORT COMMENT

When Captain Noble Aldrich leads his quintet of Bearcats against Springfield tonight on the College gymnasium court, it will mark the twelfth meeting of these two teams in basketball since the first in 1916. The Bears have won nine of the eleven games played so far, scoring 448 points to Maryville's 294. Four games were played between the two schools in 1922, the Bears winning all of them.

Following is the record of the eleven games:

1916—Bears	41	Maryville	27
1916—Bears	23	Maryville	33
1922—Bears	66	Maryville	26
1922—Bears	46	Maryville	21
1922—Bears	47	Maryville	12
1922—Bears	32	Maryville	26
1923—Bears	33	Maryville	18
1924—Bears	51	Maryville	26
1924—Bears	40	Maryville	32
1925—Bears	36	Maryville	42
1925—Bears	33	Maryville	31

There were two spectators at the Maryville-Cape Girardeau game last night who came with a different purpose than any others. They came to get the low-down on the Bearcats, and they were disappointed. These two men were Andrew McDonald and Carl Davis, coach and captain respectively of the Springfield Teachers College basketball team which plays here tonight. These two preceded the rest of the team which will arrive in Maryville at noon today.

About the only thing that Paul Burks, star Bearcat forward, could show in the game last night, was his ability as a dribbler. This man, who usually may be counted on to score heavily, made only 1 point.

Coach "Shorty" Lawrence had hoped to be able to use his second string last night against the Cape. He was able to make only one substitution however, and that was to place Blomfield, a regular, in the place of Hedges, a substitute.

John Bunn refereed another nice game last night. He is endearing himself in the hearts of local sport fans by his fairness and capability.

"Iron Horse" Shown at College This Week

"The Iron Horse," known throughout the moving picture industry as one of the greatest pictures ever produced, will be shown at the College, Friday and Saturday of this week. The committee in charge of this picture at the College said today that in cost it exceeds anything that has been shown here this year, with the exception of the "Ten Commandments."

"Dedicated to the memory of Abraham Lincoln and those engineers and toilers who fulfilled his dream, 'The Iron Horse' opened last night to a large and enthusiastic audience that included many railroad executives and bank officials, rather than the usual constellation of stage and screen stars," wrote Miss Rose Pelswick, the well-known critic of the New York Evening Journal.

"The production is a highly interesting and extremely impressive picturization of the building of the first transcontinental railroad, with an attendant romance involving George O'Brien, who is romantic and a good fighter, and Madge Bellamy, who is lovely. John Ford, in the picture, which was three years in the making, has amazed a great amount of detail and has done a splendid piece of work with an inspiring story that moves rapidly and absorbingly.

"There are Indian attacks, a stampede of bulls, georgeous photography, many fights and a great deal of delightful humor, due to J. Farrell MacDonald, who is to 'The Iron Horse' what Ernest Torrence was to 'The Covered Wagon.' O'Brien and Cyril Chadwick stage a violent battle; there is a 'Hell on Wheels,' where the bar of liquor is also the bar of justice; famous characters of the time after the Civil War are introduced; Erno Rapee's score is excellent, and historically, romantically and thrillingly the picture is well worth seeing."

All-Round Star

Ed Morrison is regarded as West Virginia University's greatest all-round athlete. In football they call him the best defensive back in Mountaineer history; on the diamond he's a clever infielder and sensational hitter and shines as a guard in basketball. Furthermore, Morrison is one of the most popular athletes the institution has ever had.
